NOTICE REGARDING MEAT INSPECTION.

RULING UNDER NET WEIGHT AND VOLUME AMENDMENT.

Referring to the ruling under the net weight and volume amendment contained in Service and Regulatory Announcements for May, 1920, page 58, it should be observed that wrapped tongues, wrapped sausage, and similar products are in the same category as wrapped hams in so far as concerns the classification "food in package form," and accordingly tongues, sausage, and similar articles, inclosed in plain paper which is in the nature of a mere temporary covering designed to prevent contamination while the products are being handled for transportation, are, for the present, considered as being without the scope of the net weight amendment and need not be marked with the statement of the net weight. However, when the articles described are placed in wrappers which bear printed matter or labels, and the wrappings thus serve some purpose in addition to that of sanitation, they are held to constitute food in package form and shall be marked with the statement of the net weight.
